DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16 and 36-40, drawn to a method and apparatus for a duplex printing device, classified in class 399, subclass 401.
- II. Claims 17, 18 and 41-44, drawn to a method and apparatus for a duplex printing device, classified in class 101, subclass 230.
- III. Claims 19-35, drawn to a method of transferring ordered images to respective sides of substrates in a duplex printing device, classified in class 101, subclass 231.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as being used in a double-side printing machine for printing on sheets while maintaining constant sheet feeding speed and constant interpage gaps among sheets. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as being used in a double-side printing machine for printing on sheets while maintaining constant sheet feeding speed and constant interpage gaps among sheets. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as being used in a duplex printing device for printing on sheets in which each of the interpage gaps between the first and second sheet are mechanically set to be different as the two sheets are moved through the duplex printing device. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, divergent subject matter, and different search, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Due to the complex nature of the various inventions and number of claims presented, no attempt has been made by the Examiner to obtain an election over the phone.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Ren L. Yan whose telephone number is 571-272-2173. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30am-5:00pm.
